Fall/Winter 2021 Trends & Collections Highlights

Sometimes all we need is a quiet space to ourselves, where we can work without distraction, meditate, read or relax. GUNNLAUG, our first sound absorbing curtain, shuts out any unwanted noise and disturbances.

Made of chenille yarn material and a special weave, the lightweight curtain filters out light and softens sounds. The uniquely textured curtain falls beautifully, creating a cocoon of much-needed calm in your home.

Made of 100% recycled polyester, the GUNNLAUG curtain brings a soothing sense of harmony into your space, while being environmentally conscious, too.

Calm Cocoon

Welcome ÄPPLARYD, our sophisticated new sofa family – available in different sizes and colours. A beautiful statement piece with exceptional tailoring and plush seating, ÄPPLARYD is made with calm and comfort in mind. What’s more, its covers are made of recycled polyester. Stylish, serene and taking steps to be more sustainable, all at great value for money.

The LÅNGARYD sofa, upholstered in a plush velvet-like fabric, will add a touch of luxury to every day. It’s design is exquisite and detailed, with smooth contours, expressive legs in solid oak or metal, and tufting on the back cushion. Evenings in just got a lot more appealing.

Both sofas arriving to IKEA Canada locations nationwide this Fall.

Velvet Living

Ushering the outdoors in, designer Monika Mulder has created a lush mushroom print inspired by Scandinavian woodland adventures and finding calm within chaos.

The bold fungi formation sprouts up on our SVAMPMAL duvet cover and pillowcase set, bringing the beauty of the Nordic forest into the home.

Made from a moisture-absorbent blend of breathable cotton (from more sustainable sources) and super soft viscose material, the SVAMPMAL duvet cover and pillowcase set is gentle against your skin and promises comfort all night for a peaceful night's sleep.
