

Extend the summer

It's prime time to make home feel like home – because nothing beats that feeling.

As the dreamy days of summer start to draw in, you feel inspired to look ahead: shifting your focus from outdoor living to retreating inside. While you're not ready for a seasonal overhaul just yet, you're excited to elevate your home with small updates that have a big impact.

This season at IKEA, we're highlighting the new products that fall under 'A fun, fresh style' and 'A nostalgic feel'. From natural wall decor to scene-stealing copper pans by Studio Ilse, there's a look within these two styles to suit every mood. Traditionalists will love our nostalgic, wild-floral bed linen, while the playful at heart will want to take home designer Hannah Wilcox's graphic animal prints. It's all here and so much more – ready to make your own.

Let's dive in.

A fun, fresh style

This youthful expression highlights simple and graphic forms to create a contemporary look that celebrates attention to detail. Expect bold monochrome patterns mixed with splashes of red for a playful touch, contrasted by soft, sandy beiges and light woods to add warmth. It's functional and innovative, with a distinctly modern attitude.

Meet the designer: Hannah Wilcox

London-based designer Hannah Wilcox draws her inspiration from nature or visiting museums and art galleries. "I see patterns everywhere," she says. "I could be in a town or the countryside, but I'm always taking pictures and seeking out new colours and shapes." For her latest set of prints, she was influenced by a little tabby cat who kept coming to her door while she was living in Dublin during lockdown. "One day he ran through my legs and up to the bedroom – he was everywhere, so I decided to paint him."

"I then started seeing birds as Dublin has so many seagulls, and I loved the idea that these weren't glamorous animals, but locals that were part of the neighbourhood. The prints developed by having the concrete elements of the city, like organic spots on the roadside, mixed with the playfulness of the animals. They're simple, fun and organic."

"I hope this collection appeals to everyone," she continues. "I think that purchasing something fun and quirky for the house is a great way to cheer everyone up; and given its simplicity and the use of one colour, people can also make it their own."

"My favourite print from this collection is the Irish cat. He will always be in my heart now, I'll never forget him."

Outfit your home for the new season

Just like your personal fashion wardrobe, a few small yet contemporary updates to your home can make all the difference for the season ahead. It's not about transforming your entire look, but being smart and savvy with what you already have.

Instead of replacing your beloved foundation pieces, like KLIPPAN and POÄNG, give them a new lease of life by refreshing them with modern accessories. Perhaps it's a statement cushion like TALLSPINNARE (courtesy of print designer Hannah Wilcox) or a graphic seat cover, the key is making effortless updates that feel endlessly inspiring.

A nostalgic feel

With traditional Gustavian influences, this look calls to mind the nostalgic, calming ambience of Scandinavian cottages. Expect a harmonious combination of dreamy pastels and soft tactile textures, decorated with romantic patterns including wild florals, stripes, and abstract dots. Think rustic charm meets artisanal craftsmanship.

Layer like a pro

Got a thing for traditional florals? So do we. This season, celebrate the power of print by mixing and matching different blooms and textures to create a look that's uniquely yours.

Why not start with the new NÄSSELKLOCKA bed linen, then build intrigue with a clashing pattern like the VERSTERVIG rug. The colour palette is still the same but the layered effect keeps it fresh. Dial it up, dial it down – the choice is yours, and that's the beauty of it.

Keep your lighting simple by pairing together the SKOTTORP lampshade and SKAFTET base. This duo will allow your prints to shine without distraction.

“Colours tie everything together, whether you’re mixing smaller prints with bigger ones or playing with the same patterns on different backgrounds. The aim is to create softness and have some fun!”

Opposites attract

One bed for two? No problem. You can still express your unique style and personality, even if it's dramatically different to whoever you're sharing it with. From early risers to night owls, traditionalists to trend-seekers – there's something for everyone to ensure a perfect night's sleep in a space that feels truly yours.

Perhaps you're into stripes, like the LAPPDUNÖRT pillowcase, while your partner prefers soothing florals (hint: they'll love the SOMMARSLÖJA duvet). Maybe you enjoy relaxing by candlelight, but they get more satisfaction from dimming a lamp. No one way is better than the other, it's all about cosy compromises that celebrate the best of both.

Supporting local artisans in India

Inspired by traditional basketry and weaving techniques, our designers have co-created a special range of products with local craftswomen in India. This partnership is supported by social business Industree PT, which employs and empowers over 1000 artisans, of which 90% are women.

The new TÖRNBÅR plant pot and IGELSTORP wall decorations are handmade by skilled weavers in Madurai, India, including Kavitha Nagaraj (pictured here). Each piece uses sustainable banana fibres with natural colour variations, which means that no two are the same.

The result? One-of-a-kind designs that bring the calming effect of nature inside, while adding warmth to any room.

PH163808.JPG

Kavitha Nagaraj is one of the skilled weavers behind this collection. Her dream? To employ 100 people, and build bigger houses for her children.

PH163743.JPG

Pieces such as TÖRNBÅR and IGELSTORP are made from banana fibres, which are sustainable and have natural colour variations, meaning each piece is truly one-of-a-kind.
