Spring mattresses

Comfortable sleep with great support

By following your movements and distributing your weight evenly, a spring mattress decreases pressure on your neck, shoulder and hips and offers superior sleeping comfort. The open spring design allows the air to circulate and makes the bed climate dry and pleasant.

Creating very precise support, a pocket spring mattress has individually wrapped springs that quickly respond to any movements. The durable construction ensures that movements of one person do not affect the other.

In Hövåg, every spring has its individual pocket. This means that the mattress forms itself around your body and reduces pressure on your neck, shoulders and hips.
