

Joining kits for new co-worker

Welcoming new co-worker is always a pleasure. Having a new team member means also to take care about a good onboarding routine for both, the boss and the newbie.

A joining gift package will give the new co-worker an immediate emotional and positive connection with the new company. And it shows, that you as a leader take responsibility for your co-worker from the first day on.

We have selected many products from different IKEA range categories to create your specific joining kit, which can be customized for your individual needs. For your company and your new co-worker.

You can use this brochure like an assembly kit to arrange the items you would like to give to your new co-worker. And the iconic SAMLA storage box, where you can put in all the nice products, is the perfect solution to hand over your joining kit.
