

IKEA New Zealand - Return, Exchanges and Cancellation policy

Effective date: 9 April 2026 (v2)

Terms and Conditions

Terms and Conditions: These terms and conditions (Terms) form a legally binding contract between you, (Customer, you, your), and IKEA New Zealand Limited (IKEA, we, us and our), and govern the terms on which we offer our change of mind policy for unopened products (Change of Mind) and our test and try policy (Test & Try).

The rights we grant to you under these terms are in addition to and separate from any rights you may have at law, including under the Consumer Guarantees Act 1993 and Fair Trading Act 1986 (Consumer Law), and any limitations to your rights under these terms do not impact or in any way restrict the rights you have under Consumer Law.

Subject to the terms and conditions set out in this policy, including the limitations and exclusions, you may in certain circumstances be able to return certain unused and unopened product(s) in resaleable condition within 365 days of purchase, with your proof of purchase.

These Terms are only applicable to purchases made on or after 9 April 2026. Any purchases completed prior to this date will be governed by the previous version of these Terms.

Consumer Law

1. Consumer Law: As a consumer you have certain rights and remedies under the Consumer Law that cannot be excluded or restricted. Nothing in these terms restricts or modifies your rights pursuant to Consumer Law. Under the Consumer Guarantees Act 1993, goods and services come with certain guarantees, these include:

- a) in relation to goods:
 - i they are of acceptable quality;
 - ii they are fit for any particular purpose which we represent to you;
 - iii they match their description, and any sample or demonstration models you have viewed;
 - iv we have the right to sell the IKEA Product(s) to you, and once supplied you will have title and undisturbed possession of the IKEA Product(s), free from undisclosed securities;
 - v we will take reasonable action to ensure that facilities for repair of the IKEA Products and supply of parts for the IKEA Products are reasonably available for a reasonable period after the IKEA Products are supplied; and

- b) in relation to services:
- i. they will be provided with due care and skill;
 - ii. they will be fit for a particular purpose; and
 - iii. they will be provided within an agreed time period or within a reasonable time.

A failure of a good or service to comply with a guarantee under the Consumer Guarantees Act 1993 entitles a consumer to remedies which may include a refund, replacement, resupply, or damages for reasonably foreseeable loss, depending on the nature of the non-compliance, and whether any associated failure is minor, capable of being fixed, or of a substantial character.

If you feel any of our products or services have not met the requirements under Consumer Law, please contact our Customer Service on +64 9 802 4864.

Outside the rights you may have under Consumer Law, or any additional express guarantees that IKEA may provide in writing from time to time, including our Change of Mind policy referred to in these Terms, IKEA will not be liable to you for any other loss or damages of any kind, including without limitation for any indirect, special or consequential damages.

365-day Change of Mind Returns (unopened products)

2. Change of Mind: Separate from the rights you have under Consumer Law, IKEA provides you the ability to return certain products if you decide you do not want the product and all of the following conditions are met:

- a) you return the product in store within 365 days of purchase;
- b) the product is unopened and unused;
- c) the product has not been assembled;
- d) the original packaging is sealed, untampered and unbroken (for example, tape or shrink-wrap not removed);
- e) the packaging and product show no obvious damage; and
- f) you provide proof of purchase (for example, receipt, tax invoice, order confirmation or bank/credit card statement).

The '365-day' period commences from:

- Where delivery was not purchased: 365 days from the date of purchase
- Where delivery was purchased: 365 days from the date that has been recorded as the successful delivery date to the address per your order.

3. Limitations and exclusions: In certain circumstances, we may not be able to accept returns for Change of Mind, including where:
- a) you damage the product while it is in your possession;
 - b) you do not have proof of purchase;
 - c) the product is a mattress;
 - d) the product is custom-made (including custom made work tops), as set out below in greater detail at clause 28;
 - e) the product(s) are not returned in a resaleable condition; or
 - f) the product is a food or drink, perishable, a gift card, or purchased from our in-store Swedish Restaurants, Swedish Café or Swedish Bistro.

Resaleable condition in this clause means that the product(s) could be reasonably resold to another member of the general public as a new, unused IKEA product.

4. As-is products: For As-is products, change-of-mind returns are only accepted where the product is returned in the same condition as when sold to you.
5. Products sold without packaging: Where a product is sold without packaging (for example: display-style items):
- a) the product must be in new, unused condition; and
 - b) any tags or labels originally attached to the product must still be attached and in good condition.
6. Live Plants: Live Plants must be in resaleable condition and must not show any signs of withering. The original tag must still be intact.
7. Swedish Food Market product(s): In addition to the terms and conditions above, to be eligible for a Change of Mind return, all products sold via the Swedish Food Market must be:
- a) in sealed, unopened and resaleable (in IKEAs sole discretion) condition; and
 - b) before any use-by or best-before date.

Food and drink purchased from the Swedish Restaurant, Café or Bistro are not eligible for change-of-mind return.

We reserve the right to refuse refund or not to refund you the full price of the product(s) if the Change of Mind return criteria are not fully met.

8. Refund amount and method: Subject to this Policy, for accepted change of mind returns we will refund to your original payment method, or otherwise to an IKEA Refund Card.

For any credit card payments, the original credit card used to make the purchase must be presented (with matching card details as per the original purchase receipt) for IKEA to process the refund back onto the card.

The refund will not include any delivery charges (for any online orders or orders where delivery was purchased).

Should you contact IKEA by phone to arrange payment of your refund then we may need to verify your identity prior to providing a refund under these terms. If you cannot satisfy us regarding your identity, IKEA may repeat the verification process or to ask you to arrange payment of the refund in store.

If you return a product where the purchase resulted in reward points being collected, the number of reward points collected on that purchase will be deducted from your points total on your IKEA Family Account. If the number of points to be deducted is greater than your then current points total, your total points may show a negative total.

In the event that you return a product purchased in whole or part with an IKEA Rewards voucher from your IKEA Family Account, you will only receive a refund equivalent to the price you paid for the product less the voucher, and no replacement or refund of points or equivalent voucher will be offered.

60-day “Test & Try” Returns (selected products only)

9. IKEA offers a “Test & Try” return option for selected products only. Exclusions apply and not all products are eligible. Products will be assessed first and determined to be in resaleable condition prior to acceptance.

Under this Policy, you may return certain products after an evaluation period, allowing you to assess the product’s nature, characteristics, and functionality within your home environment. This Policy is designed to provide you with confidence in your purchasing decisions by facilitating a practical assessment of product suitability beyond initial inspection.

If you return a product under this Test & Try policy and your products are accepted, we will provide the agreed amount onto an IKEA Refund Card (and is subject to our IKEA Cards policy). All returns will be issued on an IKEA Refund Card only (irrespective of the original purchase method).

If you return a product where the purchase resulted in reward points being collected, the number of reward points collected on that purchase will be deducted from your points total on your IKEA Family Account. If the number of points to be deducted is greater than your then current points total, your total points may show a negative total.

In the event that you return a product purchased in whole or part with an IKEA Rewards voucher from your IKEA Family Account, you will only receive an IKEA Refund card equivalent to the price you paid for the product less the voucher, and no replacement or refund of points or equivalent voucher will be offered.

10. Requirements: To qualify for a Test & Try return:

- a) you must only have used the product(s) in a manner consistent with our acceptable use (as outlined in clause 12 of these Terms), and not have used the product(s) for any unacceptable uses (as outlined in clause 13 of these Terms);
- b) you must return the product within 60 days of the purchase date (or last delivery date, if delivered in separate shipments);
- c) you must retain all packaging materials, including boxes, bags, inserts and assembly instructions;
- d) you may open and assemble the product at home to try it, but the product must show no damage beyond normal testing and must not be modified or altered (for example, no cutting, drilling, or re-upholstery);
- e) you must provide proof of purchase;
- f) the item must be deemed by IKEA to be in resaleable condition (determination of condition will be at IKEA's sole discretion and the decision by IKEA will be final).
- g) The item must not be expressly excluded at clause 11 below.

Resaleable condition in this clause means:

- For products sold with packaging: All original packaging, components, accessories, tags and instruction manuals must be returned with the product to facilitate resale. Minor tears or damage to packaging that are consistent with carefully opening the product for evaluation, and do not prevent its effective re-packaging or identification, are generally acceptable, provided all parts of the packaging are present.
- For products sold without packaging, the assessment will focus on the product's condition and evidence of use for evaluation.

The '60-day' period commences from:

- Where delivery was not purchased: 60 days from the date of purchase.
- Where delivery was purchased: 60 days from the date that has been recorded as the successful delivery date to the address per your order.

11. Exclusions from 'Test and Try' Policy: The following products are excluded from the Test and Try policy:

12. Acceptable 'Test and Try' Use: Acceptable use under this 60 day 'Test and Try' Policy is limited to actions necessary to evaluate the IKEA product's suitability, similar to how a consumer might inspect a product in a showroom but within a home setting. By way of example only, the following are considered to be acceptable by IKEA:
- a) Temporarily placing furniture in its intended location to assess size and fit.
 - b) Sitting on a sofa or chair for a brief period to assess comfort.
 - c) Operating mechanisms (e.g., drawers, recliners) to assess functionality.
 - d) Examining materials and finishes.

 - b) Sleeping on a sofa, daybed, or any other furniture overnight.
 - c) Using a table or desk for extended periods of meals, work, or other daily activities over days or weeks.

 - f) Modifying the product in any way (including, but not limited to): drilling holes, cutting, painting, or gluing; and
 - g) Using products outdoors that are explicitly designed for indoor use only.
14. Reduction or refusal of return: IKEA may refuse a Test & Try return, or reduce the amount given in value (in its full discretion) where eligibility criteria (as per clause 13 above) is not to IKEA's satisfaction upon assessment. Any decision made by IKEA regarding the product assessment will be final. Any reductions applied will be proportionate to the reduction in the resale value of the product.
15. Delivery charges are not credited: Delivery charges imposed (for any online orders and/or orders where delivery was purchased) will not be credited towards your IKEA Refund card value under this 'Test and Try' return policy.

Mattresses

16. Exchange of mattresses: These terms and conditions apply to all new mattresses. Please note that they do not affect your rights under Consumer Law.

It is important to us that you love your new mattress. If after a while you discover that it is too firm, too soft or too something else, we may allow you to exchange it for another – we call this policy our "Love it or exchange it" policy

Please note that initially your new mattress can seem a bit too firm. Allow at least one month for your body to get used to the mattress and for the mattress to get used to your body. To get the best comfort you also need the right pillow. Make sure you have a pillow that suits you and your new mattress.

For the purposes of interpreting this policy, a reference to mattress includes mattress pads.

17. Exchange once within 365 days: Where this Policy applies, you may:

- a) exchange your mattress once within 365 days from the date of purchase (provided it is not dirty, marked or damaged); and
- b) pay the price difference (if any).

Delivery costs for the item to be returned to IKEA (if any) and Delivery costs of your new mattress (if any) are imposed separately and are not part of the free exchange policy.

The '365-day' period commences from:

- Where delivery was not purchased: 365 days from the date of purchase
- Where delivery was purchased: 365 days from the date that has been recorded as the successful delivery date to the address per your order.

This policy is only available to be exercised once per original transaction. We do not accept further exchanges once you have already exercised this policy and have subsequently changed your mind again with the newly exchanged mattress.

18. Price difference: If you would like to exchange your mattress for one of higher value, you will need to pay the difference between the original purchase price and the price of the replacement chosen. If the replacement mattress is lower in price, we will credit the difference to an IKEA Refund card.

19. Exclusions – Policy applies to Mattress only: This policy only applies to Mattresses and does not include any other IKEA products that compliments the mattress, including (but not limited to) any bed frames or bed slats.

Change of Mind return options

20. Return options: IKEA offers the following return options for your convenience:

Please also ensure that there is suitable access to the chosen collection location.

If you still want our representative to collect the product(s) anyway, we will not be liable for any damage caused provided that reasonable care is taken by our representative in collecting the product(s).

A collection document provided by the representative must be signed by you to confirm that the collection has taken place. If you are not personally available to attend and accept collection of the product(s), you may appoint an adult representative to do so on your behalf.

22. Additional terms for 'Test and Try' Collections:

- a) the product(s) must be disassembled without any damage from disassembly; and
- b) the product(s) must be reasonably placed back in the original packaging (to the best of your ability).

23. Refund processing time: We will withhold any refund until we have received the product(s) or received evidence that you have returned the product(s) to us. If we have agreed to collect the product(s), it may take up to 14 days from the date of collection to process your refund.

If you do not proceed with installation of your custom-made work tops after check and measure but before fabrication begins, you will be entitled to receive a refund of the fees paid minus the fees of check and measure service. No refund of the fees for the check and measure service rendered.

Once fabrication begins, you cannot cancel the order for Change of Mind. There will be no refund of the cost of the custom-made work tops or service fees for Change of Mind unless IKEA agrees otherwise. You will incur the full cost of the production of your ordered custom-made work tops and all services rendered including possible scrapping charges (if you do not wish to take the work top).
