

Press kit | Launching October 2026

A home in constant bloom

This season we are going all in on flowers on our textiles. A direction that is quite unusual, especially in October. But when nature outside lies dormant, it can be brought to life in our homes with sofa covers, beddings and cushion covers. Just like fresh cut flowers, our news for the season can help revive the home in an instant.

We are now embracing a more muted colour palette with dusty pink, mustard yellow and dark blue. Calm and warm, but still colourful. Every object with a story to tell and a reason to be, even if that reason is simply to make us love our homes a little more.

All of the sweetness, none of the thorns

Our long-time favourite sofa, EKTORP, now gets a floral update to complement its curvy, traditional shape. The new sofa cover Mångbyn is designed by Swedish designer/painter/gardener Hanna Wendelbo. Together with the TÅNEBRO side table in light pink all you need is a romantic novel and some candlelight to make the evening complete.

“The flowers in the pattern are inspired by both real flowers and the fantasy flowers that used to be woven on Swedish folklore cushions in the 1800s.”

Hanna Wendelbo
Textile Designer

Unplug and unwind

Lighting a candle and watching the wick flicker can soothe the senses and allow you to enjoy the tranquillity that comes with unplugging. With KUNGSTÄRNA candlestick and tealight holders, you can create a calm and cosy feeling and with the KUNGSTÄRNA lantern, the light easily travels from room to room.

Make your home smell like roses and carnations with the new PÄRLHÖNA scented candles.

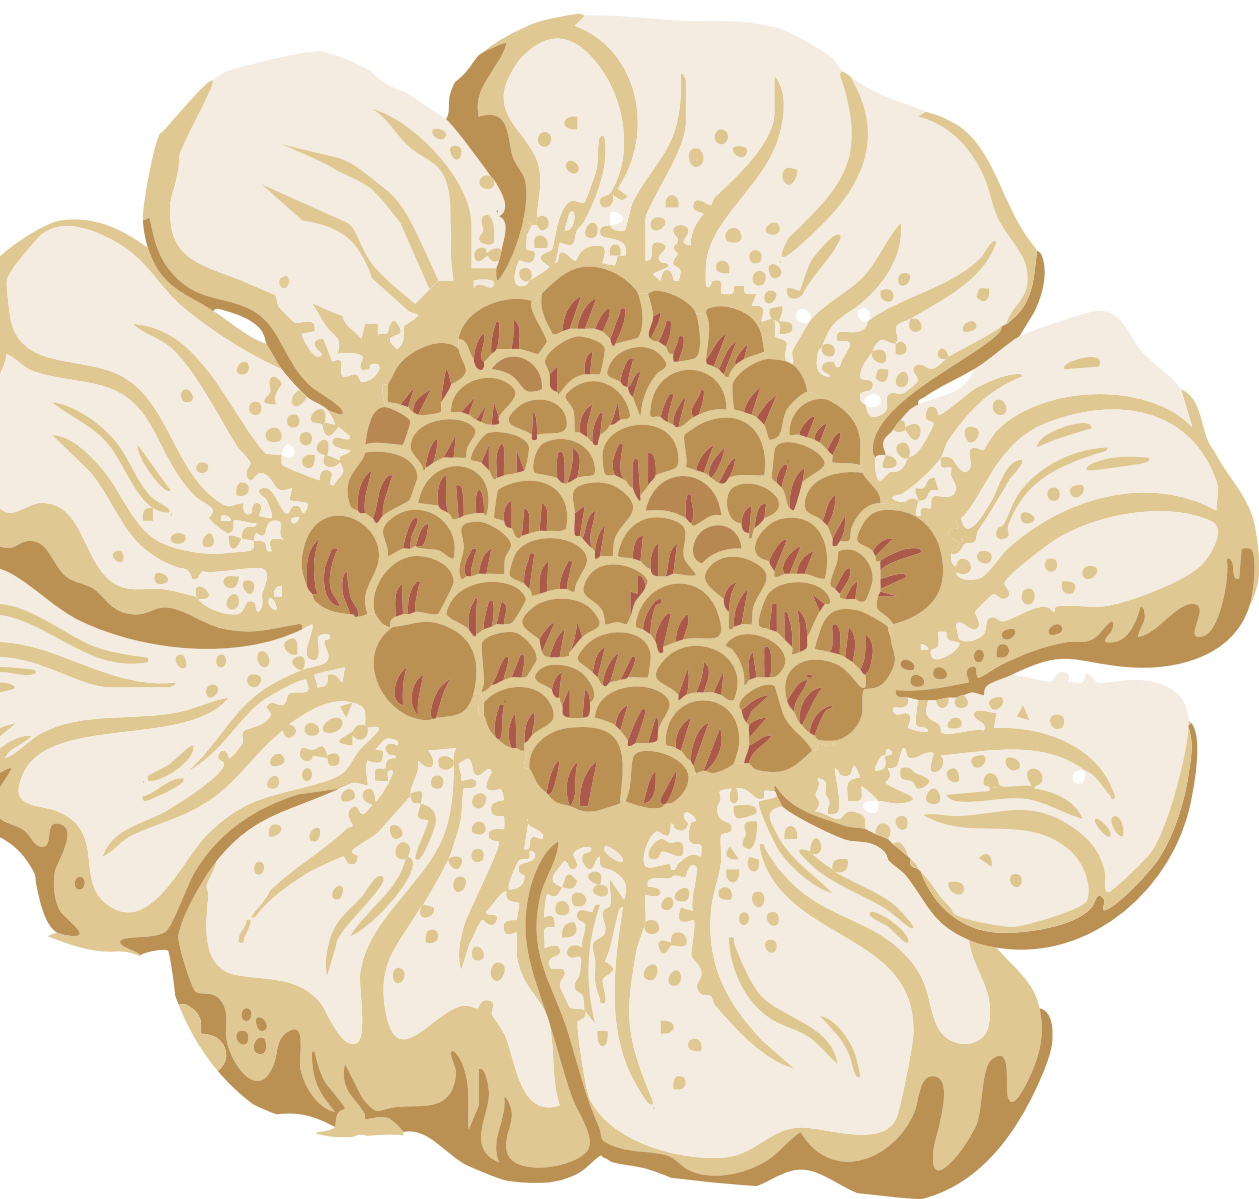

Set the mood with soft lighting

Set the tone for your home with the minimalistic AKTERSPRING floor lamp. Made of opal white glass and brass-plated steel, it was designed to create a soft ambient light with an elegant feel. Combine it with the AKTERSPRING table and pendant lamp for a cohesive look.

These flowers were made to be ruffled

Enjoy a blooming meadow, made for rolling around in. Inspired by Icelandic poppies and cress, textile designer Lina Schnaufer has created a romantic floral pattern for ARENBOK bed linen. The blend of 50% lyocell, 33% recycled cotton and 17% new cotton ensures a silky-smooth feel with great temperature regulation.

"I wanted the pattern to feel like you're diving into a bouquet of flowers."

Lina Schnauffer
Textile Designer

“Lyocell is a material made from wood.
The mix of lyocell and cotton makes the fabric soft and breathable.”

Alper Üstüner,
Product Requirement Engineer

Have you met lyocell?

What makes the new ARENBOK duvet cover so soft, breathable and cool to the touch? It's the blend of cotton and lyocell. Don't get intimidated by its name: lyocell is a material made from cellulose, which comes from wood. It makes your bedding super soft and dreamily comfortable.

Fresh perennials for the bed

Country life without the heavy lifting

Textile designer Lina Schnauffer has illustrated her own rural dream in the PJÄXE duvet cover and pillowcase. With a small cottage surrounded by rosehip bushes and hens she puts a finger on what most of us long for: a countryside retreat. However, a real country house probably requires more work than leisure. Luckily, with PJÄXE bedding you can enjoy the hens without getting up with the rooster.

“This pattern is a love story between two gardeners working in a big garden. If you look closely, you can see the two glasses on the table where they will soon share a fika.”

Lina Schnauffer, Textile Designer

A garden escape

Using watercolour as a base, Emma Prowse has created a timeless pattern of make-believe flowers and fruits for the KRONBUSKE duvet cover and pillowcase. The bed linen's percale quality together with the fabric's cotton/lyocell blend, ensures smooth and crisp trips to slumberland.

"I was inspired by the Swedish Modern aesthetic with its bold and whimsical botanicals. But I wanted to make the pattern a bit lighter and more delicate by using watercolours to create a softness within these clear shapes."

Emma Prowse, Illustrator

Break the rules with bold pattern mixing

We encourage everyone to mix and match their way into cosiness this season. Simply choose a base colour and play around with the patterns. Combine stripes with florals and add plaid too. Get the full sensory experience by also mixing textures. Velvet, flannel and cotton are great on their own, but can be even better together.

Flowers that last

The flowers on the ARENBOK cushion cover need neither water nor sunshine and they will never lose their petals. And should they ever lose their shine, simply throw the cover in the washing machine. The ARENBOK cushion cover has a hidden zipper and is made of 100% cotton, of which 50% is recycled.

Mix patterned cushion covers with solid coloured ones.

Made to serve

With GRÅRÄV serving platters, the food is the main character and the plates were designed to support it in the best possible way. The GRÅRÄV series offers serving plates, bowls and mugs with a soft matte finish in green-grey and medium brown shades with dark speckles. But don't be fooled by their rustic look, GRÅRÄV is both microwave and dishwasher safe, allowing for more fun and less work during this festive season.

VARDAGEN pots come in three different colours and shapes.

Pots that like to show off

VARDAGEN enameled cast iron casserole and pots in fun colours have finally arrived. These pretty pots in pastel were not made to be left in the kitchen or hidden at the back of a cupboard. Instead, let them shine on your table and in the display cabinet. No matter what's served, VARDAGEN will make it look good. And with a 15-year guarantee, leave a great aftertaste.

The icing on the cake

Enjoy an afternoon tea, surrounded by scented candles and flowers that never wither. With the new Winter Refresh collection, we have invited nature inside in both shapes and scents. Fill the air with cinnamon, warm wood and orange blossoms or have a treat from a SNÖSISKA glass bowl shaped like an acorn. Combine the best of two worlds by having both candles and flowers on the table for your next gathering.

“The Winter Refresh collection was inspired by all the muted colours you see in Sweden during this time of year, with frosted whites, pale greens and muted pinks. Toned down, just like the colours outside our windows.”

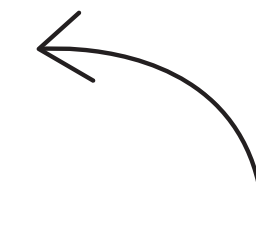

Maria Dumania, Product Developer
