January 2023

Prepare your home for a season of new beginnings.

It's time to reset. Lower your pace and slow your breath.

This is the season of new beginnings. Of listening inwards and adjusting your goals and intentions for the upcoming year. A chance to start fresh.

The holiday season has come to an end, and even your armchair seems to relax after a season of carrying both family and friends. Now it's time to reclaim your space. Hide the things you don't need for now and make room for new favorites.

Most of us feel better and less stressed when the home is tidy rather than surrounded by mess. That said, keeping the home organized can sometimes feel like a full-time job.

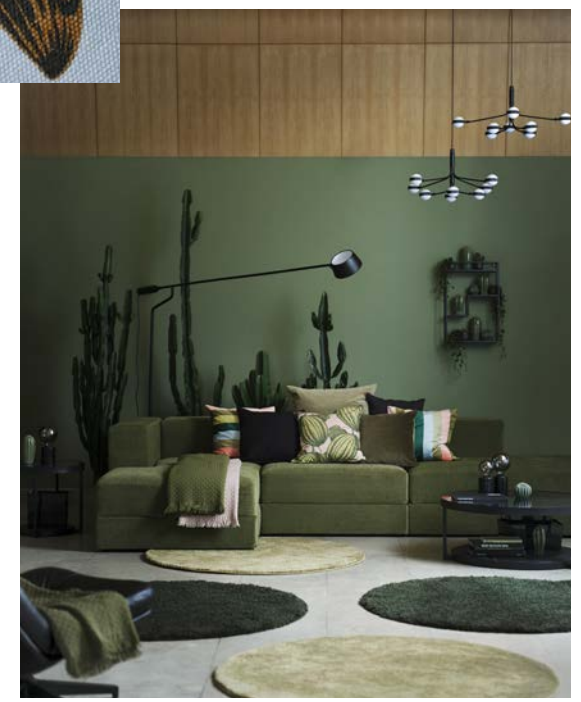

This season at IKEA, we are happy to introduce new smart storage solutions to make the process less of a hassle. And with new fun designs and fresh, colorful patterns, you can create a harmonious space that energizes and revives you.

Goodbye mess. Hello harmony!

Style expression: Rich and elegant, yet surprising

Think of an Italian movie in technicolor from the '60s, and you've locked this look down. The colors, the elegance, the drama! Contrasts in materials and patterns. The tension between glossy and matte - hard and soft. Dark wood with pops of luscious colors and playful prints. This look lets us escape the rough edges of reality and travel into a world where life is smooth, comfortable, and a little bit magical.

Secret storage and favorites on display

Let your living room expand or relax depending on your mood. Visually match and deliberately mismatch using both colors and shapes.

Sprinkle your sofa with new bold prints and pinches of pink with the fun and colorful cushion covers PARKSALLAT and VATTENVÄN. Then make cushions and throws magically disappear inside the spacious built-in storage of the JÄTTEBO modular sofa. Let the decorations in the LINDÅSEN display shelf match the plants on the floor and enhance the color of the sofa by painting the wall in a similar shade. Illuminate it all with overhead lighting, without the need for a ceiling outlet, with VÅGHÖJD LED floor lamp.

“The idea with VÅGHÖJD was to create a LED floor lamp that can go behind a sofa and still reach all the way to a coffee table – without bumping the wall or tipping. You can easily rotate the lamp where you need it – and adjust the intensity with the built-in dimmer.”

"I want to spread pattern joy. I believe patterns and expressive colors are good for the soul and make us all happier."
— Lisa Bengtsson, designer

Meet the designer: Lisa Bengtsson

"We need more fun and playfulness in the world, especially in these turbulent times. If we were to live only in white and beige, we would all get a bit sad. I hope my designs can bring some joy into people's homes," says Lisa Bengtsson, the Swedish designer behind expressive textiles like NÄBBSPINNARE cushion covers and ÄNGLATRUMPET bed linen.

"I'm usually inspired by something in nature, and then I add my own twist and structure to it. My patterns are often a collage of different animals that become their own fantastical beings in the end," she explains, when asked about her creative process.

What unifies your products as a collection with so many different colors and patterns? "The patterns may seem very different, but they are all on the same side of the color scale, making them easy to match," Lisa says. "The designs work well independently but give an even stronger impression together."

Style expression: Fresh like newly cut grass

This look is inspired by the natural freshness of the season. The green leaves that start out pale and slowly grow darker. Irregular and moving. Soft and natural. Wood, natural fibers, and simple forms combined with monochromatic graphic patterns. Fresh and crisp, just like your plans and ideas for the upcoming year.

Timeless design with a twist

Create a harmonious space free from clutter by combining design that never goes out of style with smart functions. Choose a simple base and dress it up with nice details in natural shapes and materials.

Complement your classic BILLY bookcase with the new BILLY drawer with casters to create the perfect hiding place for things you don't use daily. Continue visually harmonising by clustering your books underneath the coffee table and organising your shelves by color. And let the irregular form and warm texture of the BLANDSKOG hanging tapestry add an interesting contrast to the room.

Discover a living room with all the necessities without any of the mess.

Connecting and empowering women through crafts

The SMÅFRÖSSÖRT and SANDSENAP cushion covers are not only designed to look and feel good. They are also designed to create job opportunities for those who need them most.

In response to the Syrian crisis in 2017, IKEA Social Entrepreneurship partnered with the Jordan River Foundation (JRF). The aim was to empower refugee women and support better integration into Jordanian society through handicrafts like sewing and embroidery.

To follow up and see how the work had gone so far, JRF made a social impact assessment in 2021. The result showed that 95% of the artisans in the project had improved their perception of other community members, and 76% had made new friends. By being able to sustain themselves, the women had also improved their overall quality of life and increased their confidence.

Though bold and graphic in their design, the SMÅFRÖSSÖRT and SANDSENAP cushion covers match most styles with their monochrome color palette. And the handmade stitching on top of the print gives every cushion cover a unique touch.

Creating new jobs for villagers in the Golden Triangle

The SAGOGRYN plant pots are made in collaboration with the Doi Tung Development Project in Thailand. Doi Tung DP is a social enterprise that has transformed thousands of lives for people in the once opium-growing region known as the Golden Triangle. From opium cultivation, trafficking, and stripped mountains – the local hill tribe people have been able to switch to honest, stable incomes and lush green forests. Today more than 1700 households in 29 villages have a better and safer economic situation thanks to the initiative.

The partnership with IKEA started in 2007 and has resulted in a bounty of unique, handmade products sold in IKEA stores worldwide – products that create jobs for villagers in northern Thailand with few other choices for earning a living.

PH189423.JPG

The SAGOGRYN plant pots are handmade with a layer of glaze that deepens the color and enhances the pattern, giving each plant pot a unique expression.

“We only glaze part of the SAGOGRYN plant pot to highlight the raw characteristic of the ceramic. I hope that you, like me, are proud that the production helps give vulnerable people the opportunity to earn a living.”
